

Scandinavian Film Festival L.A.

January 14, 15, 16, 2005 – Writers Guild Theater, Beverly Hills

“Where Nordic film winters in Southern California”

WRITERS GUILD THEATER

Dear Friends –

Welcome to the 6th annual Scandinavian Film Festival L.A. – where Nordic film “winters” in Southern California during Hollywood’s “film season” adding its voice to the crescendo of festivals, screenings, award shows, speculation and splash that leads up to King “Oscar” (and I don’t mean the sardines!).

Thank you for joining us to see the wonderful work of filmmakers from Denmark, Finland, Iceland, Norway, and Sweden. The Nordic constellation has long had a prominent place in the firmament of film. Films of the great Ingmar Bergman awakened American audiences to the cries and whispers and inspiration of “art film.” Later, names like Ullman, Von Trier, Karismäki appeared and continue to shine. And their work that inspired us has inspired new Nordic filmmakers whose incredible talent is enough to send us reeling through the imaginative world of Scandinavian film.

Whether you've been with us all six years or are a new friend this year – we thank you for your continued support!

And now as our banner says – it's time for Northern Lights, Camera, Action!
